OVERVIEW

THE DANIELS MISSION

To benefit the public good by developing business pioneers through impactful scholarship, challenge-driven education and lifelong learning.

THE DANIELS VISION

Pioneering business for the public good.

THE DANIELS CORE VALUES

Culture of innovation and engagement:

- ❖ Learn through doing
- ❖ Interact with integrity
- ❖ Diversity and inclusion as a source of strength
- ❖ Global action and influence

The mission, vision and values are the foundation that links the Daniels, DU and global communities together as a cohesive unit with a shared past, present and future. We will hold ourselves and each other responsible for leading professional lives that uphold these tenets.

Daniels Secondary Admission Process

Demand for business degrees is on the rise nationwide and at the University of Denver. It is necessary to have a secondary admission process to support academic quality, small and engaged classes, and strong student-faculty interaction.

Daniels requires a secondary admission process for undergraduate students not directly admitted to the business school upon entry to the university. Undergraduate students interested in pursuing a business major will be eligible to apply upon successful completion of pre-requisite coursework and professional development requirements. Application cycles are offered in fall, winter, and spring quarters. Students are encouraged to work with a Daniels advisor to ensure appropriate timing of their application.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS SECONDARY ADMISSION ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY:

Students in the Daniels College of Business are expected to uphold the values of Integrity, Respect, and Responsibility as expressed in the University of Denver Honor Code. Engaging in plagiarism and other types of academic misconduct is a violation of the University of Denver Honor Code. As defined in the Honor Code, plagiarism includes “any representation of another’s work or ideas as one’s own in academic and educational submissions.” Other forms of academic misconduct may include, but are not limited to, false representation of facts or an actual or attempted effort to assist another student in carrying out academic misconduct.

The University of Denver Honor Code can be found at:

<http://www.du.edu/studentlife/studentconduct/honorcode.html>

PLAGIARISM SCREENING

As a means of ensuring that students uphold the values of Integrity, Respect, and Responsibility, secondary admission application materials will be submitted to Turnitin®. Turnitin® is a web crawler which compares students’ submissions to a database, that includes millions of published materials and billions of web pages as well as other student materials previously submitted to Turnitin®. Turnitin® screens for plagiarism and provides a report which notes what percentage of the submission is not original work based on its match to the materials in the database.

To learn more about Turnitin®, visit: www.turnitin.com

PENALTY

In the event that a Turnitin® originality report indicates that a student has not submitted his/her own work or if a student is suspected of engaging in another form of academic misconduct, the case will be submitted to the University of Denver Office of Student Conduct. Through a conduct review, the Office of Student Conduct will determine whether the accused student is responsible for a violation of the University of Denver Honor Code. The Office of Student Conduct is responsible for maintaining all official University records related to student conduct. A student’s record will include copies of all cases in which a student is charged with academic misconduct. More information regarding these records can be found at: <http://www.du.edu/studentlife/studentconduct/records/html>

In addition, students found responsible for engaging in academic misconduct will be denied admission to the Daniels College of Business.

DANIELS STUDENT CHARACTERISTICS: What are we looking for?

Daniels looks for well-rounded students who are energized, highly motivated and committed scholars who are interested in adding to the Daniels community in ways that will leave the college a better place for those who follow. A holistic set of criteria will be used to evaluate each applicant in the following categories:

Academic Performance

An evaluation of a student's cumulative DU GPA and the subset GPA of the prerequisite courses required for admission. Previously admitted students had an average GPA of 3.3.

Academic Drive

Student demonstrates academic potential, a passion for learning and an appreciation of academic challenge.

Adaptability & Resiliency

Student demonstrates the ability to adjust readily to ever changing, adverse conditions.

Community Engagement

Student demonstrates meaningful involvement in campus or community organizations.

Inclusiveness

Student demonstrates his/her values, engages and acknowledges the rich diversity of people and all the valuable social dimensions that they bring to campus, including but not limited to race/ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, religion, nationality, age and disability.

Integrity & Ethics

Student portrays strength and firmness of character.

Interest in Business

Student can articulate his/her interest in business and future career goals.

Leadership

Student demonstrates experience with leadership positions and involvement.

Professionalism

Student displays professionalism in his/her work and interactions with others and submits high quality work with attention to detail.

Work Experience

Student demonstrates work experience through jobs or internships relating to business or future career goals.

SECONDARY ADMISSION APPLICATION DEADLINES

Daniels requires a secondary admission process for undergraduate students not directly admitted to the business school upon entry to the University. Most students will be eligible to apply in the fall quarter of their sophomore year. Application cycles are offered in fall, winter, and spring quarters. Students should work with a Daniels advisor to ensure appropriate timing of their application.

Spring 2017

- Online Application Opens: Friday March 3, 2017
- Microsoft Certification Deadline: Saturday, April 1*, 2017
- Online Application Deadline: Friday, April 7, 2017
- Interview Date: Wednesday, April 12, 2017
- Notification of Decision: Wednesday, April 26, 2017

Important:

For those transferring prerequisite courses from other institutions, transcripts/grades must be received and processed by the DU Registrar's Office prior to the application deadline.

*If you have taken an MOS exam at an outside Certiport Authorized Testing Center, exam scores must be received and processed by Daniels Undergraduate Programs prior to the Microsoft Certification Deadline.

Applications will not be accepted after these deadlines. If you fail to meet the application deadline, you must wait until the following quarter to apply. You are encouraged to work closely with your advisor to determine the best cycle for you to apply.

Dates are subject to change. Students will be notified of any changes via email and Canvas in a timely manner.

SUBMITTING YOUR APPLICATION

The application, available via PioneerWeb, needs to be completed without exiting the online system. If you do exit, you will be unable to save your work and will need to start a new application. Therefore, it is essential that applicants have all materials ready to upload at the time of application. Once an application has been submitted, no changes will be able to be made.

Online Application

1. Log into PioneerWeb account with your student ID number and password.
2. Select MyWeb > Student > Daniels Undergraduate Secondary Admission
3. Follow the on-screen directions to choose major, confirm the honor code statement, upload the resume and cover letter, and submit the application.
 - If asked to pay for the application or asked for additional testing scores, this is the wrong application. Please reference step 2 & 3.
 - If a message stating you are not eligible to apply appears, please contact Daniels.Undergrad@du.edu or 303.871.6910.
 - Applicant transcripts will be pulled directly into the system. Submission of transcripts are not needed with the Daniels application.

Microsoft Certification (MOS requirement)

By completing Microsoft Office Certification at the University of Denver, exam scores will automatically be recorded. Exams taken outside of DU, must have scores submitted and processed by the required deadline. Contact the Microsoft Certification Program at MOscertification@du.edu for instructions.

Resume and Cover Letter

The resume and cover letters are uploaded during the admission process. These documents must be in PDF format. See the Resume, Cover Letter and Interview section for more information about the Daniels Career Center and advice on building a resume and cover letter.

Interview

Admission interviews will occur one week after the application deadline. Once a completed application has been submitted, there will be a prompt to schedule an on-campus interview.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Who do I contact for special accommodations?

Students needing special accommodations should contact University Disability Services at dsp@du.edu , 303.871.3939 or visit: du.edu/studentlife/disability-services/index.html

Why does Daniels have a separate application process?

Demand for business degrees is on the rise nationwide and at the University of Denver. It is necessary to have a secondary admission process to support academic quality, small and engaged classes, and strong student-faculty interaction.

When can I apply to Daniels?

Upon successful completion of the application requirements, students can apply at the beginning of fall, winter, or spring quarter. Most students become eligible to apply in fall of their second year.

Do I need to declare my major when I apply to Daniels?

There is a section of the application where students can indicate his/her choice of major when filling out your application. Upon acceptance, the application will serve as the major declaration form. For a list of majors and minors, visit daniels.du.edu/academic-programs/undergraduate/majors-minors/

How and when will I be notified of my admission status?

Admission decisions will be made in a timely manner after all interviews have been completed and applications reviewed. Applicants will be notified via email.

Can I still apply if I am unable to meet all of the requirements during my first year?

Successful completion of all requirements listed on the checklist on page 5 is required prior to applying. Please meet with a Daniels advisor to determine when best to apply.

When is the latest in my undergraduate career that I can apply to Daniels?

There is no limitation on how late one can apply; however, depending on specific situations, graduation may be delayed. Most applicants apply during their sophomore year. A Daniels advisor can assist with mapping academic plans.

Is it possible to apply to Daniels while I am abroad?

Yes. Contact Daniels Undergraduate Programs the quarter prior to studying abroad.

What grade-point average (GPA) do I need to be admitted?

GPA is an important criterion, and does not guarantee admission. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 is recommended to apply. Students on academic warning or probation must meet with Janeen Todd, Enrollment Services Manager, to discuss overall credentials and timing of application.

What is Fast Track admission?

Students who meet the following fixed criteria will not be required to undergo the secondary admission process and will, due to their demonstrated academic success, be eligible for direct admission to Daniels. To be eligible, students must:

- Have completed at least two quarters at DU with full-time status (minimum 12 credits/quarter) with a cumulative GPA of 3.5* or higher.
- Successful completion of MATH 1200/1951 with a C- or higher.

Students who are eligible for Fast Track admission will be notified via email by a Daniels Undergraduate Programs advisor. Eligible students are required to meet with Daniels Career Services for cover letter and resume review as well as a mock interview to ensure that they are prepared and competitive for future internship opportunities.

 GPA will NOT be rounded. Must be 3.5 or higher for Fast Track admission.*

This policy is contingent upon available undergraduate capacity within Daniels.*

Students who are re-applying to Daniels are not eligible for Fast Track admission and must participate in the secondary admission process.*

Review of student eligibility will occur on a quarterly basis by Undergraduate Programs Staff.*

What happens if I'm not admitted to Daniels?

If a student is denied admission to Daniels for not meeting the expected academic standards or if found responsible for academic misconduct by the DU Conduct Review Board, the student may reapply one time.

- Students denied for not meeting academic standards may reapply only when there have been significant improvements in their credentials and academic achievement. Daniels advisors will work continually with students who are not admitted to provide guidance on improving their academic profile and to ascertain when a significant improvement has been made.
- Students denied for academic misconduct reasons may reapply during the next secondary admission cycle. Students should work with their Daniels advisor throughout the process.

For assistance with selecting majors outside of business, please contact the Center for Academic and Career Development at advising@du.edu or 303.871.2455.

MICROSOFT OFFICE CERTIFICATION

Overview

The Microsoft Office Specialist (MOS) requirement is designed to help students take advantage of the full features and functionality of Microsoft's Excel, Word, and PowerPoint applications. This industry-standard certification program includes online learning to support classroom instruction, practice tests, and software designed to teach you the concepts necessary to master each program. For each program you are required to complete a project-based certification exam that reflects real world application and comprehension, not just memorization of individual skills.

Academic Benefits

Knowing the tools of business is important to your academic success. Mastery of the various Microsoft Office applications allows you to work more efficiently and produce professional and compelling deliverables. Developing validated Excel, Word, and PowerPoint skills early in an academic career helps student prepare for upper-level business courses where lack of proficiency can impede learning. By investing in this knowledge, these are skills that will carry throughout Daniels and beyond.

Career Benefits

Microsoft certification serves as a tangible differentiator for Daniels students, allowing them to gain a competitive hiring advantage over other internship or job applicants, no matter the industry. With this certification on a resume, students will graduate from Daniels demonstrating they have attained a universal and extensive level of skill in Excel, Word, and PowerPoint, which naturally improves marketability.

Aside from these advantages, MOS is required for the application for secondary admission and graduation. Failure to complete this requirement will delay the ability to apply to Daniels, enroll in most business courses, and graduate.

MOS FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How do I complete my MOS requirement?

MOS certification is completed in labs associated with INFO 1010 (Excel) and INFO 1020 (Word and PowerPoint) coursework. If the INFO courses requirement have been met through AP/IB/Transfer credits, register for INFO 1011 and INFO 1021 zero-credit labs. If INFO 1010 and 1020 courses have not been completed, do NOT register for the 1011 or 1021 labs without speaking to an academic advisor in Daniels.

What if I have previously taken a Microsoft Office training course?

While many may have taken courses in high school or elsewhere that centered around the Office applications, all students are required to complete the Microsoft Office Specialist licensed exams through Certiport. Other courses may give extra preparation for the certification exams, they do not fulfill the MOS requirement.

Why is there a lab fee and what does this lab fee cover?

There is a $325 lab fee associated with both the INFO 1010/1011 and 1020/1021 courses. This fee covers the cost of testing, customized learning materials, practice software, Teaching Assistant availability and proctoring exams.

What if I do not pass my certification exam?

It is common to need more than one attempt to pass the exam. The course fee provides two attempts at each exam. Additional attempts can be purchased for $50 per attempt.

Will the exam schedule fit within my class schedule?

The certification exams are offered on multiple days/times (including weekends) throughout the week. Exam dates will be announced at the beginning of each quarter. Testing must be done during the scheduled times, otherwise this will result in forfeiture of an exam attempt. Make-up exams are only for students with university approved conflicts.

Is there a deadline to complete my certification exam?

Students should make every effort to pass the exam when enrolled in the course. Students will not be allowed to submit an application for secondary admission until passing scores for all three exams have been received and processed.

Can I complete the certification exam outside of DU?

Completing a certification exam outside of DU is possible by locating a Certiport Authorized Testing Center (CATC) that offers Microsoft Office Specialist exams in English. It is the student's responsibility to contact the testing site regarding scheduling exams, pay any testing fees and submit scores to Daniels before the deadline. Once the exam is complete, contact us at MOscertification@du.edu for instructions on submitting scores.

How should I prepare for my exams?

Students who attend lab are more than twice as likely to pass their exam as students who do not attend. These labs will provide hands-on practice with various features of each program. Students will also have access to online video tutorials, homework and practice software to study outside of lab. TAs hold weekly office hours for individualize support.

How do I prepare if I have a Mac?

Per the specific technology requirements for Daniels, all students intending to pursue a business major must be able to run Windows and Office 2013/2016* for their business coursework. While we strongly encourage PCs, there are options available to run Windows on Macs. Technology setup is held for students in Microsoft labs at the beginning of each quarter. Practicing on Office 2008 or 2011 for Mac will not prepare you for your MOS exams as you will be tested on the Office 2013/2016* version.

Beginning November 2016, the exam will be administered using Microsoft Office 2016.*

Who do I contact if I have other questions? Direct questions to MOscertification@du.edu

RESUME, COVER LETTER AND INTERVIEW

RESUME & COVER LETTER

A resume is a concise document that highlights your most relevant credentials for admission to college, consideration for a scholarship, fellowship, employment or other professional purposes. An effective resume:

- Is ONE page in length.
- Persuades your readers that you are the best candidate and deserve an interview.
- Constructs your professional image and establishes your credibility.
- Provides a sample of your written communication skills and specific examples of your proven experiences.

A cover letter supplements your resume and goes into specific detail about what you hope to get out of the experience and also what skills you have to offer. An effective cover letter:

- Specifically addresses the position and company (for secondary admission, this would be the Daniels College of Business) and why you are interested (what you hope to major in and why, as well as your career goals).
- Provides specific examples of how your skills, experience and personal attributes will contribute to your eventual success as a Daniels student.

Identify & Describe Your Accomplishments

To put together an effective resume and cover letter, it is important to know your abilities, what skills you have developed and what you can offer a potential employer or school.

Compile a list of your skills and accomplishments. Ask yourself these kinds of questions:

- What skills have I developed through my involvement?
- What strengths have I acquired or enhanced?
- What have I accomplished?
- Why should someone hire me?

After you have identified these attributes, you are ready to begin writing your resume. For additional resources, visit the Daniels Career Services website at:

Secondary Admission Selection Committee
Daniels College of Business
2101 S. University Blvd.
Denver, CO, 80210

Dear Secondary Admission Selection Committee:
(double space)

Introductory Paragraph: This is the attention grabber that should arouse the reader's interest. Compliment the school. This paragraph may include your knowledge of the school and specific program you're interested in, why you want to be a Daniels student and what you intend to major in. Most introductory paragraphs are short, so be brief and clear.

Middle Paragraph(s): This is your sales pitch. It is the longest of your paragraphs (may be split into two paragraphs) where you attempt to persuade the committee that you are worth an interview. Present specific abilities, skills, leadership roles, academic achievements, and work experience that make you an attractive candidate. Reveal a long-term goal that shows your interest in business. Prove that your skills and abilities match the Admission Criteria.

Final Paragraph: Reiterate your interest in attending Daniels. Mention how you will fit in with the school's culture (values, mission, vision, etc.). Thank them for their time and consideration.
(double space)

Sincerely,
Your Name

ADMISSION INTERVIEW

Interviews allow you to discuss your personal qualities and experiences in more detail. While it is common to be nervous, anxious, uncertain, or fearful before an interview, preparation and practice can transform these emotions into positive forms of energy.

Interviews for secondary admission generally last 20-30 minutes. This does not leave a lot of time to get warmed up and comfortable with the interviewers, so you must enter the room primed to respond with answers that bring your best self to light.

Know yourself

Know your skills, personality traits, strengths and weaknesses.

- Refer back to your resume and cover letter and analyze that information.
- Ask others who know you well to provide you with honest feedback.

Know your school

Interviewers expect that you have done some homework and that you are making an informed choice. You should be prepared to discuss your major and career goals, and why Daniels is the right school for you.

Personal appearance

People make immediate judgments about you based on your appearance. Dressing professionally & conservatively ensures that you are doing the talking, not your clothes.

- A suit is the best option for an interview. Traditional colors like navy/black/grey are best.
- If you are unable to wear a suit, you can combine nice slacks or a knee-length skirt with a professional looking button down top or blazer.
- Your clothing should fit properly (not too tight or short), be clean and well pressed.

Punctuality

Plan to arrive 10 to 15 minutes before your scheduled interview time.

Practice answering commonly asked questions

Visit the Daniels Office of Undergraduate Programs page on Canvas or the Daniels Career Services website (daniels.du.edu/danielscareers) for samples of possible interview questions to help you prepare. Also study the STAR method (Situation, Task, Action, Result) to help you organize your answers to behavioral-based interview questions.

During the interview

- Start with a firm handshake
- Enunciate your words clearly and speak at a volume that is easy to hear.
- Be friendly, confident and smile. Make consistent eye contact with all of the interviewers.
- Be prepared to ask questions.
- Thank the interviewers for their time.

Interview Follow-up

For most interviews, you should send a hand-written thank you note to your interviewer. In the case of your secondary admission interview, a thank you note is not necessary.

COVER LETTER & RESUME FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Where can I get help with my resume and cover letter and preparing for my interview?

The best way to prepare is to schedule an appointment with Daniels Undergraduate Career Services. Career advisors are available to assist with the development of resumes and cover letters and to conduct mock interviews. Visit the Student Tab on Pioneer Web or call 303.871.6910 to schedule a career advising appointment.

How can I build a resume if I have no work experience?

Not all experience gained is on the job. Highlight your volunteer work including bullets detailing your responsibilities. Include details on academic awards or recognition. Extra-curricular and leadership activities and skills should also be included. A job is recommended between your first and second year to enhance your application.

What is the rule of thumb on resume length?

You should keep your resume to one page. After you've acquired five to 10 years of post-graduation work experience, you can extend it to two pages.

Should I include my GPA on my resume if it's below 3.0?

Generally, you should not include your GPA on your resume unless it is 3.0 or higher.

Do I need to include my high school involvement?

Generally, no; however, there are exceptions for relevant experiences. Your resume needs to highlight your college experiences and accomplishments.

ADDITIONAL CAREER RESOURCES

The Daniels Career Center offers a number of additional interviewing resources including handouts, a list of beneficial websites, podcasts and videos, mock interviews and interview streaming (a resource where you record practice interviews from your computer).
